

We're Going to Find
Out the Truth About
State Welfare Rolls

One of the bills introduced into the Arkansas House of Representatives with Governor Francis Cherry's blessing provides that the Welfare Department may levy a lien against any property owned by persons who accept state "relief" money.

While the proposal may sound harsh on first reading Governor Cherry points out:

"The preservation of an estate for relatives of recipients whom they refuse to support is ridiculous."

As you study the governor's words you suddenly realize that the very existence of property rights in a household supported by charity funds is a fraud against all self-supporting people.

Such property if left unattached to the state must eventually pass to the "relief" heirs — so the effect of the state program is to give money to people not personally on the welfare rolls but hiding behind the names of those who are.

The governor's idea is to sweat down Arkansas' swollen relief rolls, separate the sheep from the wolves, and thus provide more money per family for the cases where need is genuine.

On this welfare issue, of course, the newspapers and the public have no way of determining the size of the fraud — not while the welfare rolls are barred from inspection. In the days of F. D. Roosevelt a federal prohibition forbade state governments from opening up the welfare lists; however, the federal act has been repealed, the states are taking the wraps off their rolls — and pretty soon the Arkansas list will be available.

The only known facts are that the state's welfare rolls total 75,000 persons, of whom 57,000 are in the old-age bracket; and the figures published by The Star on Hempstead county last year check out on the average with the state total. Hempstead being an average county among the 75 on all other statistics you would expect her to show around 1,000 for the welfare list — and that's precisely what our report did show. Last fall the total case load in Hempstead county was running 969. The cost of carrying 4 per cent of our county population on public charity was $200,000 a year.

There isn't any fraud in this operation it will be the first time in the history of our republic. Nor will all the fraud be shown as the work of vote-hungry politicians. Much of it will be traced to the citizens themselves.

There is a queer streak in human nature which enables a man to compromise his natural pride and independence and argue to himself this way: "I'm paying taxes, and if there's any money coming back from them I want my share. Sure I could keep my kinfolks off the welfare rolls if I wanted to, but as long as the state's putting out the tax money I might as well get a share for the family."

So the state covers this man's personal obligation — and later on the fellow picks up a piece of property by inheritance from the very folks whose groceries the state was buying.

That's the kind of fraud that is practiced by the people everywhere until an honest government steps in and demands that justice be done in the name of true Christian charity.

Francis Cherry has a tough job ahead of him — but no governor fights alone when his cause is just. This time the cleanup will be aided by the swinging axe of publicity — names and addresses... Serialized at every county courthouse.

New Breaks in European Dikes Add to Peril

AMSTERDAM, The Netherlands, (AP)—The death toll in Holland's disastrous floods reached 1,320 today. This brought the total in the low countries and Britain to 1,880.

The Dutch figure fell short, however, of the approximately 2,000 deaths which reliable, but unconfirmed, reports say the surging flood waters have caused since the week end.

And the end was not in sight. Four new breaks in the dike system of Schouwen-Duiveland Island, in Southwest Holland, posted a new peril for thousands of homeless flood victims stranded there.

Boats fought through heavy seas and planes bucked snow and winds in a race against time to get nearly 3,000 stranded persons off Schouwen-Duiveland before the Continued on Page Six

Hope-Camden to Seek Paving of Highway 4

Mayor Walter Laney of Camden graciously returned Hope its Water & Light plant after winning it in the March of Dimes contest last week end.

In fact the Camden mayor hit on an idea which Mayor John L. Wilson readily agreed, concerning Hope watermelons and the paving of Highway No. 4 between the two cities. Mr. Wilson has written Mayor Laney to make his plans and Hope will bring the melons and work for the highway paving.

Mayor Laney's letter follows:

Camden, Arkansas
February 3, 1953
Hon. John L. Wilson,
Mayor of Hope,
Hope, Arkansas.
Dear Mayor Wilson:

I appreciate your fine letter of February 1st, 1953 and I certainly want to congratulate you and the people of Hope upon the fine work done in the polo drive. All of us enjoyed the competition a great deal.

The City Council last night authorized me to return the water and light plant to you on the condition that you and other City officials, together with those who conducted your polo drive, visit us next summer and bring some of your famous watermelons. We will provide whatever else may be needed in order to have a fine get-together. Maybe at that time we could devise some way to coordinate our efforts to secure the paving of Highway No. 4 between our cities.

Again I wish to congratulate you and all the people who worked with you in the splendid drive in raising funds for so worthy a cause.

Yours Sincerely,
WALTER H. LANEY
Mayor

6,240 Bales of Cotton Ginned in '52 in Hempstead

A cotton ginning report just issued by the Department of Commerce Bureau of Census reveals that 6,240 bales of cotton were ginned in Hempstead County from the 1952 crop prior to January 10, 1953.

This compares with 6,475 bales for the 1951 crop, District Supervisor Ernest A. McFarland reported. Despite last year's drought this figure indicates very little change in the amount of cotton grown.

House Okays Pre-marital Blood Tests

By LEON HATCH
LITTLE ROCK (AP)—A bill for compulsory pre-marital blood tests in Arkansas passed the House yesterday afternoon.

It was the first step toward enactment of a proposal which has unsuccessfully been brought up in virtually every legislative session for the last 20 years or more.

Veteran members said they believed it was the first time the House — possibly either house — had passed such a measure.

Vote on the measure was 63 to 25. Coates conceded that his bill "certainly won't stop syphilis, but it's one thing we can do to help cut down on it's spread."

Campbell said his opposition was based on the fact that persons of certain religious sects which believe in healing by faith only.

Campbell, who is not a member of any of the objecting sects, said "no health program should be allowed to take precedence over religious freedom."

Colay replied to Campbell with the assertion that "a blood test was absolutely no bearing on a man's worship of God."

"A person found infected with syphilis isn't even required under the bill to take treatment," Colay added, "but he can't get a marriage license as long as he has the disease."

Theaters Collect $354.14 for Relief Fund

Eldon Coffman, city manager of Hope Theaters, announced today that during the theatre audience collection week, the Saenger Theatre collected $258.48 and the Elmo Theatre $95.66.

Of this $354.14 total, $212.48 (60%) has been turned over to the March of Dimes chairman, Andy Andrews and $83.54 (25%) of the amount will be given to the Cancer Drive, with the remaining $58.12 (15%) deposited to the local Emergency Fund, for use in case of any emergencies in the Hope Territory during this year. If there are no emergencies the money will be given to some worthy cause at the end of the year.

Mr. Coffman explained that it was their policy to take only one audience collection each year for all of these worthy needs.

U. S. Drops 38,880 Civilian Workers

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Sen. Byrd (D-Va.) reported today that the number of civilian government workers dropped 38,880 for the first half of the present fiscal year, which started July 1.

He said the Dec. 31 total was 2,560,478, a decline of 5,129 from Nov. 30. That was the fifth consecutive monthly decline.

Byrd released the totals from reports supplied by 72 government departments and agencies to the Senate-House Committee on Reduction of Nonessential Federal Expenditures, which he heads.

To the Romans the handshake was merely a form of guarantee between two men that at the moment of meeting neither planned to back each other to death. As long as their hands were linked neither could draw his sword.

The handshake today is no insurance against fatality. It does protect you from stabbing — but may result in your being talked to death.

In the modern world the handshake may lead to anything — from a fresh romance to a court summons, from a new job to the purchase of a swimming pool for your living room.

You put out your paw — and mystery begins. Anything can happen to you from a handshake, particularly at a cocktail party, and at such affairs the wise man keeps a drink in both hands, so he won't feel tempted to risk rattling the dice of destiny. If you see anyone you really like, you can always shake hands with him later.

There are certain types of handshakes and handshakers, however, that it seems impossible to avoid even in a well spent life. Perhaps you have met the following:

Wage Control to Be Scrapped Within 48 Hours

By MAUREEN GOTHLIN
WASHINGTON, (UP)—Wages in all industries will be decontrolled within the next 48 hours unless the White House vetoes present plans of government stabilization officials, it was learned today.

Informed sources said orders also are in the works — again subject to presidential approval — to lift price ceilings by the end of this week on cattle, all kinds of meat, restaurant meals, household textiles, children's clothing and numerous other department store items. Most of them are now selling well below ceilings.

Price Stabilizer Joseph Freehill announced yesterday that controls will be taken off meats at all levels and a "number" of other commodities this week, probably Friday, in line with President Eisenhower's policy for an orderly Continued on Page Two

Handshaking Today Protects a Person From Stabbing But He May Be Talked to Death

Clark Plans Filibuster on Burial Bill

By RAY STEPHENS
LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Sen. Jack V. Clark of Texarkana was prepared to take up this afternoon where he left off yesterday with a filibuster in the Arkansas Senate.

Clark yesterday stopped the Senate from acting on a bill to establish a 7-man board of burial company representatives to regulate the state's burial policy dealers.

The 40-year-old Texarkana insurance man took the floor and announced that he intended to speak the full hour allotted to senators to speak on one bill each day, but he yielded the floor after about 15 minutes to allow a motion to adjourn. When the Senate adjourned, however, it automatically gave Clark the floor and Continued on Page Two

Shielding Reds Stopped Within Few Hours; Chinese Warning to Accept Terms Is Old Stuff

By ODE CLEMENTS
TOKYO (AP)—Red China Wednesday warned the U. S. to accept Communist terms for peace in Korea or face a fight to the finish along the bleak battlefield.

In a direct challenge to U. S. President Eisenhower's new administration, Red Premier Chou En-lai demanded unconditional resumption of truce talks at Pannunjom, an immediate cease-fire and an 11-power political conference to settle the thorny question of war prisoners.

American officials immediately rejected the broadcast threat as "old stuff." They said it was the same proposal advanced by Russia in the U. N. last December and voted down, 40-5.

These are the conditions laid down by Red China's No. 2 leader in a broadcast over Peking radio:

1. "If the U. S. has the will and desire for peace in Korea she should unconditionally resume talks at Pannunjom."

2. Red China and North Korea "are ready for an immediate cease-fire on the basis of agreement already reached at Pannunjom."

3. "Thereafter we are prepared to discuss the question of prisoners of war at an 11-power political conference."

Then Chou hurled this belligerent challenge: "If the new American administration has no intention to do so and continues to adopt policies of the Truman administration in Korea and intends to further enlarge and extend the Korean War, we are thoroughly prepared to fight it out with the aggressors to the last."

Allied negotiators, fed up with 15 months of fruitless wrangling, walked out of the Pannunjom talks Oct. 8. They said they would return only if the Communists agreed to one of several U. N. proposals or came up with something new.

The Communists want back all of the 122,658 POWs held by the U. N. The Allies have agreed to send back only the 83,000 willing to return.

Dulles said that the organization of a powerful and united Western Europe will lead ultimately to the peaceful unification of Germany itself, now divided between eastern and western zones.

But Germany was unable to give any specific pledges. The Government first must overcome the opposition of the powerful Socialist party to rearmament. In addition, it will be at least another six weeks to two months before the West German supreme constitutional court in Karlsruhe gives a ruling whether rearmament is constitutional at all.

One of Dulles' conferees today was with Socialist party leaders. His expression of hope that Germany may be unified was pointed toward removing their opposition to rearmament.

BONN, Germany, Feb. 5 (UP)—Secretary of State John Foster Dulles arrived here today to try and convince West Germany a European army with German soldiers must become a reality this year.

Dulles was reported to have warned that Western Europe must make substantial progress toward unity within the next 75 days or risk cuts in American aid.

Arkansas Feels Drop in Farm Products

By HAROLD HART
LITTLE ROCK (AP)—That old stigma — falling prices — is plaguing the nation's farmers again.

Prices on practically everything the farmers raise are going down. The situation has hit home — Arkansas.

The Federal-State Crop Reporting Service says the price Arkansas farmers got for their products as of Jan. 15 was 3.4 per cent lower than on Dec. 15. And that was the lowest since June 15, 1950.

Dwindling prices, present, quite a contrast from a standpoint of world conditions. You would think the prices would continue high during wartime when enormous quantities of food stuffs are being shipped from the United States throughout the world.

Farmers of this country are justifiably touchy when these conditions exist. For example, a recent move by the government to sell some of the wheat it has stored and which it bought under the loan program.

That action immediately brought an outcry from the nation's farmers. The producers, in effect, said don't dump all that grain on the open market. It will depress prices even more. Farmers demanded that the government hold up selling it for at least a year.

Wherever cotton mechanization is discussed, the name of John Ruet usually comes in. This Arkansan farmer has a shock of grey hair, has pioneered development of the mechanical cotton picker.

He has known hardship and privation — both mentally and physically — in the some 20 years he has worked on perfecting the mechanical picker.

The Senate defeated Sen. Wiley W. Boone's bill to allow any county to build a horse race track if it is approved in a local option election.

The House yesterday rejected attempts to alter procedures now being used for determining damages due under the workmen's compensation law and for authorizing increased rates for public utilities.

It defeated a bill of Rep. Peyton Moncrief of Arkansas County to permit new trials of cases decided by the Workmen's Compensation Commission in circuit court on appeal. Testimony would be introduced before a jury, which would decide the case.

A bill of Rep. Dan White of Sebastian County to prevent telephone companies having more than five exchanges from increasing rates under bond also was defeated.

The House yesterday received from Rep. J. A. Womack of Outchitta a bill to abolish the position of county school supervisor. Similar bills have been defeated in previous legislative sessions.

Womack said many educators had written him that the work of supervisors largely duplicated that of other school officials. He said their elimination would mean a saving for school purposes of $288,705 annually.

Wage Control

and to price-wage curbs by April 30.

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower's quick-moving campaign to put the country back on a free-market economy was shifting today into a third phase — lifting of price controls on the things people buy.

His latest step taken yesterday, was to knock out the Defense Production Administration, mainstay of the Truman administration's industrial controls program. The agency's functions were turned over to the Office of Defense Mobilization.

Dismissal notices went out the day before to all 3,000 or so employees of the federal boards which have controlled wages and salaries.

Soon and probably tomorrow, a price official said, an order now in preparation will decontrol prices of meat and a lot of other consumer items, such as canned fish.

SINUS SUFFERERS

YOUR SINUS ARE IMPORTANT! THEY ARE THE PASSAGEWAY TO YOUR HEAD! If they are blocked, you will have a headache, a sore throat, a runny nose, a cough, a bad cold, a fever, a loss of taste and smell, a loss of voice, a loss of sleep, a loss of appetite, a loss of energy, a loss of health. Sinusitis is a common condition which affects the sinuses. It is caused by a bacterial infection of the sinuses. The sinuses are small cavities in the bones of the face. They are connected to the nasal cavity. When they become inflamed, they produce a thick, yellowish discharge. This discharge can flow down the back of the throat, causing a sore throat and a bad taste in the mouth. It can also flow into the eyes, causing redness and swelling. Sinusitis can be treated with antibiotics and decongestants. However, the best treatment is to keep the sinuses clear by using a neti pot or a saline solution. This will help to flush out the bacteria and reduce the inflammation. If you are a sinus sufferer, you should see a doctor for a proper diagnosis and treatment.

Within two weeks, the official said, a follow-up order will call off controls on such major appliances as stoves, refrigerators and washing machines.

Price Administrator Joseph P. Frechill acknowledged that a decontrol order, including meat, will be touched on in a statement this week. He said it is part of Eisenhower's program, revealed publicly in his State of the Union message to Congress Monday, to "eliminate controls in an orderly manner and to terminate special agencies no longer needed for this purpose."

Allied Planes Hit Red Ship, Supply Lanes

By STAN CARTER

SEOUL AP—Allied warplanes attacked a 5,000-ton Communist ship at Chinnampo on the Korean west coast today and blasted Red supply routes and frontline positions, the U. S. Fifth Air Force reported.

An F-40 Shooting Star jet piloted by a U. S. pilot scored two direct hits on the Red vessel, located in the harbor, Chinnampo is the port for the North Korean capital, Pyongyang.

Allied pilots scored regularly against small Communist boats and junks off both Korean coasts. The 5,000-ton, single-stack vessel was described by the Air Force as the biggest target.

Deadly U. S. Sabre jets patrolled MIG Alley in far Northwest Korea but failed to contact any Communist MIGs.

The U. S. Eighth Army reported only light patrol activity, along the frozen, 153-mile battlefield.

The Navy said Marine Corsair pilots from the escort carrier Badoeng Strait Wednesday damaged one Communist MIG in a duel with four of the Russian-built jet fighters south of Chinnampo.

U. S. Navy planes from the carriers Kearsarge, Oriskany and Philippine Sea attacked Red supply areas along the east coast.

The Air Force said B-29 Invader bombers last night destroyed 115 Communist supply trucks and two locomotives.

On the ground, Allied troops forced back six small Red probes last night and early today. The Communists fired a few rockets in one jab at an Allied advance position east of Panmunjom on the western front.

In Tokyo, Gen. Mark Clark, U. N. Far East commander, announced that Lt. Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor will take over command of the U. S. Eighth Army next Wednesday.

By ROBERT UDBIK

SEOUL, Korea, (UP)—Gen. James A. Van Fleet, 8th Army commander, announced today that the Republic of Korea division is fighting on the Eastern front and that enough trained ROK troops are available for two more divisions.

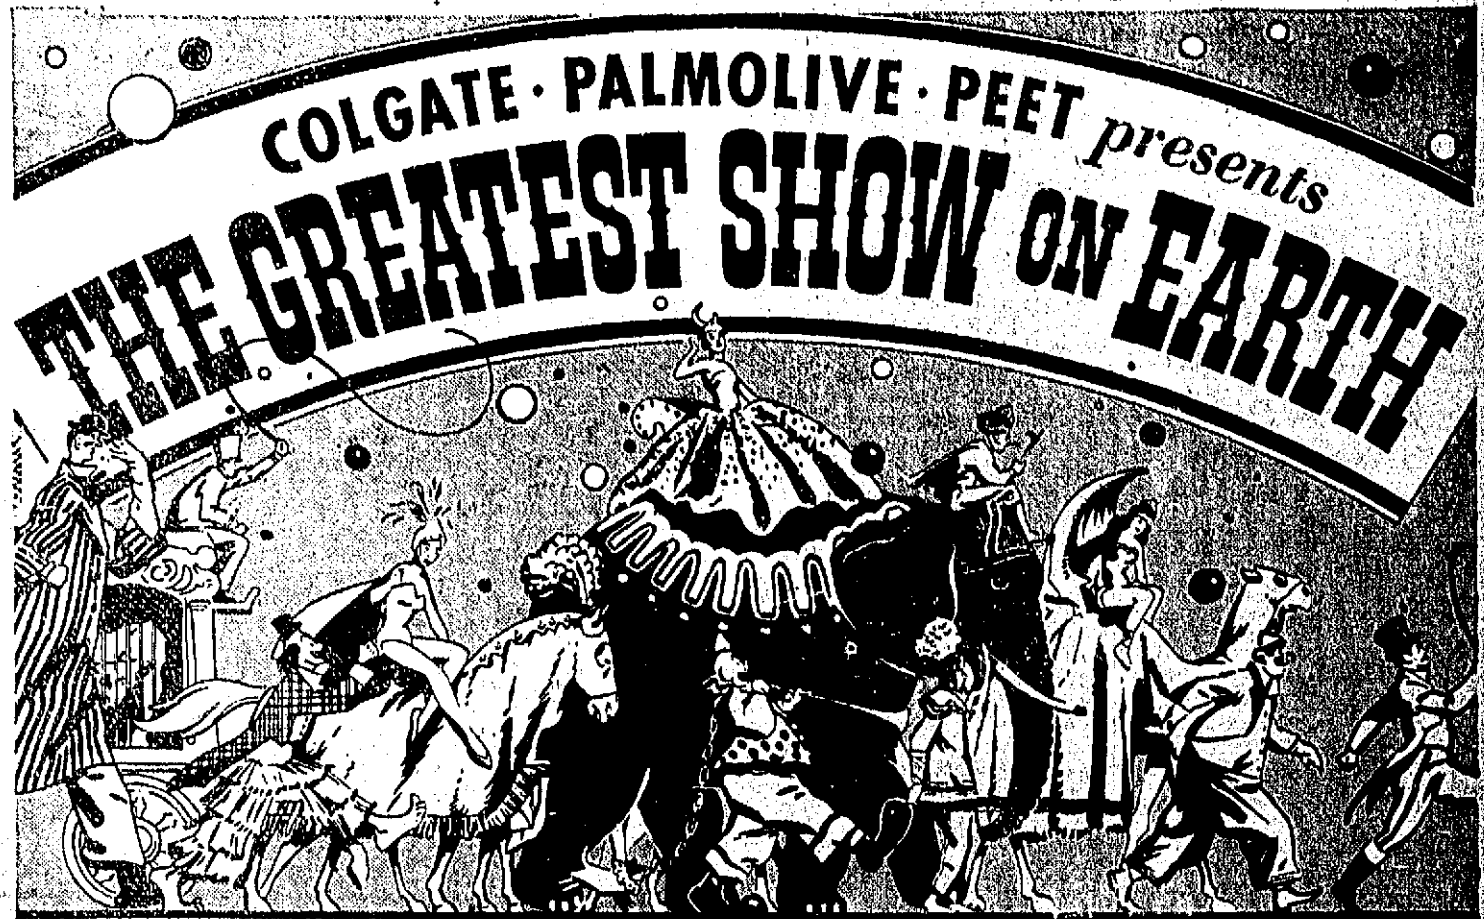

Van Fleet announced the 15th division had gone into action—the 13th ROK division manning the 153-mile front along with seven U. S. divisions, one British Commonwealth division and smaller units from other members of the United Nations.

American dive-bombers poked through dense clouds to demolish a troop billeting area at Pangdang today after B-29 Superfortresses smashed two Communist supply dumps.

Lawman to Peak Into Pork Imports

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Harvey (D-Mo.) wants to know whether imports of pork and beef are a factor in falling meat prices in the United States.

Meat imports increased sharply last half of 1952, he told a committee with heavy shipment of pork from New Zealand and of beef from Denmark, the Netherlands and even Communist Poland. "We should know," he said, "whether cheap beef and pork imported contributed to the break in cattle and hog prices."

He said it also should be determined whether politics figured into heavy meat imports, which he said peaked in the months preceding the November election.

Badly Wounded Turk Soldier Slashes Way Out of Chinese Trap, Lives to Tell About It

By AL KAPF

WITH THE TURKISH BRIGADE, Korea, (UP)—A Turkish soldier, riddled with burp gun slugs and mortar fragments, lived to tell today how he slashed his way out of a Chinese trap in a bloody bayonet battle.

Wounded in five places and holding a broken rifle, the Turk cut four Chinese to death and sent two others fleeing in the darkness. His one-man, steel-blade assault broke up a trap that had threatened to annihilate an eight-man patrol.

But Corp. Abdurrahman Can, 22, of Hatay, Turkey, will receive no medal for his heroism because his government does not permit military awards.

"When I go home, my father will say to me: 'My son, you fought well,'" Can said. "That will be my award."

The nightmarish battle, punctuated with screams from dying Reds, opened after a Turkish patrol had waited three hours for the Chinese to cross its path in no-man's land.

"We hadn't seen a single Chinese, so I started scouting for enemy foot tracks which we could follow," Can said.

His scout uncovered a Communist trap to cut off the Turks from their own lines.

"I spotted a Chinese soldier through the moonlight standing about 35 yards behind the patrol," Can related. "He fell when I shot but he blasted back at us with his burp gun."

One Turk was wounded before Can pumped enough lead in the Chinese to silence the gun.

"Another Chinese jumped up near the dead one and then our automatic rifleman called for help from behind me," the young soldier said. "We were surrounded."

Three Chinese closed in on the automatic rifleman.

Can's rifle would not fire. With a whip of his hand, Can pulled his bayonet, locked it on the crippled rifle and charged the three Reds.

"Then everything hit me at once," he said.

Three bullets splattered in his hips and one cut a hole in his leg. Then a grenade exploded behind him, hurling jagged shrapnel into his back.

"I didn't feel any pain. I kept on running. I had only one idea—to kill Reds," Can said.

Two of the Chinese ran when they saw the bleeding Turk, his bayonet gleaming in the moonlight. Can leaped at the third one.

"I rammed my bayonet into his chest and lifted him off the ground," he said, "then I pointed the rifle down the way they fought us, and he slid off the blade and crumpled at my feet."

"When a Turk is wounded, he makes a little noise that sounds like 'ah.' But the Chink screamed like a dying dog."

A few minutes later the bleeding Can saw three more Chinese. He staggered toward them and jabbed his blood-soaked bayonet into the chest of one.

"He fell at my feet and I looking down at him, I knew he was dying. His screams were maddening. I couldn't leave him like that so I stabbed him in the stomach."

"The night became silent again."

Harber, Hawaii, headquarters in a few days.

By ELTON C. FAY
AP Military Affairs Reporter

WASHINGTON (AP)—What will the United States Fleet and Air Force do if Chinese Communists attempt to strike at Formosa?

The question was sharpened today by the air of high secrecy the White House has thrown about the nature of any directive President Eisenhower has or will issue to put into effect his decision on the function of the Seventh Fleet.

The President said in his State of the Union message Monday he was "issuing instructions that the Seventh Fleet no longer be employed to shield Communist China."

This recanted that part of the original 1950 order by former President Truman neutralizing the situation between the Chinese Nationalists and the Communists by preventing either side from attacks.

So far as is known, there has been no occasion up to now which invoked the Formosan defense instructions. No U. S. planes or ships have had to fire upon any Red aircraft or vessels headed for Formosa.

But the threat remains and may in fact be aggravated if the Communists choose to use the Eisenhower order as a pretext for offensive action across the Formosan Strait. It could have the effect of spreading at least the air-sea phase of the Korean War far down the coast.

The prospect seems remote that Chiang Kai-shek's forces can launch any substantial action, either by air or sea, against the Red-held mainland before late next spring.

Dutch parachute troops were ordered dropped into the surrounded dry parts of the flood area to help in rescue efforts and direct parachute drops of relief supplies. Rescue officials set up a "flying windmill" helicopter airlift from Woensdrecht Airport here to pick up people most in danger in stricken areas.

The Dutch ministry of war offered an extra gulder a day about 30 cents and a pack of cigarettes to each of the 4,000 to 5,000 American soldiers who have been sent in to help in the rescue work.

But Gen. Manton S. Eddy, commander of U. S. Army forces in Europe, asked that the money and cigarettes be turned over to the national relief fund.

Although Britain herself is staggering under heavy flood damage in the Southeast, British troops and helicopters have been sent to help stricken Holland. Queen Juliana of The Netherlands sent her thanks to Britain's Queen Elizabeth II.

Mealey's financial affairs as a one-time top tax official.

Mealey resigned, giving reasons of ill health, in the fall of 1951.

WASHINGTON (AP)—A State Department security officer testified today that his report on a "suspected Communist" employed by the department disappeared from secret files.

John S. Matson, special agent in the department's division of security and investigation, was a witness before the Senate Investigations subcommittee headed by Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.).

McCarthy has charged that State Department files have been "looted" of derogatory information concerning some employees, including some under fire in his communists-in-government fight.

Matson did not identify the employee concerned in the missing report, except to say the man was attached to the U. S. Embassy in Ecuador.

By G. MILTON KELLY
WASHINGTON (AP)—Investigating senators, showing their hand just a little at a time, called a new mystery witness today to tell of what Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) calls "the looting" of the State Department's secret files.

McCarthy's group also heard testimony that John Stewart Seelye, since fired on grounds of questionable loyalty to the government, was allowed day and night access to the department's confidential files on foreign service personnel.

One committee member, Sen. Potter (R-Mich.), suggested this was "like putting an arsonist in charge of a match factory."

McCarthy said the inquiry is designed primarily "for the benefit of the new secretary of state," John Foster Dulles. McCarthy said he wants "the record to show Mr.

Dulles, what has contended for so long, that the files can be and have been raped."

By ED CREAGH
WASHINGTON (AP)—House probes who turned up the first ink coat mystery of the 1953 investigating season dug today for new evidence of unexplained spending by a former top tax official in the Truman administration.

Chairman Kean (R-NJ) of a House ways and means subcommittee said today's hearing would show "a continued pattern of unexplained spending" by Carroll E. Mealey as head of the Internal Revenue Bureau's alcohol tax unit.

L. Webb of St. Louis and Charles H. Malmesbury of Philadelphia were called as today's first witnesses and asked to detail Mealey's financial transactions in 1948, 1949 and 1950.

Kean announced that Dwight E. Avis, chief of the alcohol tax division, would be heard later today in closed session on politics in the division. Avis has told the committee that "the wrong kind" of politics had hampered efficient administration of his unit.

Agents Webb and Malmesbury testified yesterday that in 1946 and 1947, Mealey's first two years with the tax unit, he spent—or received—$13,995 more than he listed on his income tax returns.

One such unexplained item: $1,980 paid in cash by Mrs. Mealey to a New York dealer for a nutria coat valued for insurance purposes at $2,400. Nutria is a light brown fur something like beaver only more expensive.

New Vaccine May Wipe Out Flu

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—Scientists of the World Health Organization have developed a preventive vaccine they hope will completely wipe out the scourge of influenza by next year.

The discovery was announced here by the United Nations last night, shortly after the scientists delivered their official report in the new serum to Who's Executive Board in Geneva, Switzerland.

The announcement said the Vaccine—not yet available in large quantities—was the first specific anti-flu serum developed that could be used in advance for an attack.

It was evolved by scientists working in 55 laboratories in 44 countries under the supervision of who and the world influenza center in London.

The scientists said the new vaccine would work on all types of flu viruses. They added that the available supply greatly limits the number of people who can be immunized but said they hoped the output would be increased rapidly.

Coldbar Suits Are railed by Troops

By JIM BECKER
CENTRAL FRONT, Korea (AP)—The U. S. Army's New Coldbar suit has received its first test in combat and a patrol leader who wore it gave it hearty endorsement.

"It's amazing," said Lt. William E. Aaron Jr. of Lyon, Miss. "These new suits kept me and my men warm in spite of zero weather."

Plans call for the brown-colored plastic suit, named from a contraction of "cold barrier," to be issued to 3,000 infantrymen of the 32nd Infantry Regiment for mass tests.

Aaron and his patrol engaged a Communist patrol the night of Jan. 16. Tests under combat conditions were continued for several days.

The suit is worn next to the skin without undergarments of any kind. It is covered by regulation cotton twill field trousers and jackets to prevent snagging the spongelike material. If the suit is snagged it can be quickly patched with special tape issued with each garment.

Coal to supply electricity for the new Jopka, Ill., plant of the Atomic Energy Commission will be unloaded at the rate of 800 tons an hour.

Cooperation Is Shown by President

By DON WHITEHEAD

WASHINGTON (U) — President Eisenhower steered his spanking new administration on a course of party harmony and hoped-for government economy today.

Entering his third week in the White House, Eisenhower:

1. Displayed a willingness to go more than halfway to "get along" with GOP congressional leaders and to keep close personal ties with the men who will translate programs into action through legislation.

2. Moved to lop off an unestimated number of government jobs and to squeeze down the government's huge construction program initiated by the Democrats to those projects which can be classified as "clearly essential."

The President evidently got off to a good start yesterday toward the first of these objectives when he had 18 Senate GOP leaders in for a luncheon which senators insisted was all social and no business.

Tomorrow he entertains Republican House leaders at a similar luncheon.

Allies Capture Very Few Red Prisoners

By ELTON C. FAY

WASHINGTON (U) — The bag of new prisoners is dwindling to virtually nothing in the stalled Korean War, where both sides sit in heavily fortified positions.

Records made available today by the Defense Department in response to a query showed that during December only 29 Red soldiers were captured.

By contrast, the total take of prisoners by United Nations forces when the big Allied offensive was cutting up Red divisions and rolling swiftly northward in October, 1950, was 51,808. The monthly figure showed a slump after truce talks started in mid-1951 and has been dropping almost continuously since winter set in that year.

In stockades on Jan. 16 of this year were 122,653 Red prisoners of war. By far the greater part, 101,- 558, were North Koreans; the rest were Chinese. To a considerable degree, this reflected the huge groups of North Koreans captured in 1950, before the Chinese entered the war.

No overall total for United Nations personnel taken by the Reds is available.

The U. S. lists 2,142 American military personnel as captured by the enemy. But this figure is essentially only the total reported back through international channels. To it should be added at least some of the 9,269 currently listed as missing.

It is difficult to say how many of any given number of missing men may be captured. A rough rule of thumb would be that about 25 per cent or less of the missing on any one day would be captured, perhaps after being wounded. That would be in a static situation, such as exists now.

On this basis, the monthly total of Americans captured by the enemy is even lower than enemy prisoners taken — perhaps a dozen or 15 against 30 Reds.

Prisoners are valuable in war,

Sweden to Keep Up Strength

STOCKHOLM (U) — Sweden will make heavy sacrifices to maintain her military defense despite her determination to keep outside the military alliances of the great blocs, Prime Minister Tage Erlander and Foreign Minister Osten Unden said today.

"The states are seeking security in ever expanding armaments, but a policy of collective security is still an objective attainable only in a remote future," they declared in a joint statement on foreign policy in parliament.

They also acknowledged that "some events have been a stimulus on Sweden's relations with Soviet Union."

especially on a static front.

Except for air reconnaissance and scraps of information gained from agents, prisoners willingly or unwillingly provide the only intelligence on enemy strength, deployment and intentions.

Honored Bullfrogs
Once each year, in Japan, prayers are said and incense burned by high priests of the Buddhist temple, to soothe the souls of the thousands of bullfrogs sacrificed during the year for experimental purposes.

This has always been true because the condition was made by geography and not by politics. Yet in spite of our enormous American casualties, Truman and Acheson refused to recognize facts and proceeded with their fantastic program in Korea. Until they left office, this policy of imprisonment, which was not for Freedom, but the eventual recognition of Soviet China remained American policy.

General Eisenhower and Secretary of State John Foster Dulles supported by such experts as General Douglas MacArthur, General Albert C. Wedemeyer, Admiral Leahy and Admiral Radford, have now reversed that policy and have freed Formosa from the bondage of enforced inactivity.
